Program Summary:

The eEnterprises International Youth Internships are three month learning workshops that include training in financial education, technology and leadership for youth ages 15 – 26 offered and supported by the eEnterprises International LLC. The program teaches Information Technology skills, financial literacy, multimedia skills, leadership and physical training, communications, work and career and readiness, and community service.

It is a great opportunity for youth in the inner city neighborhood to learn new skills, engage with the community, and complete community service hours for college application. The steering committee also known as Central District Youth with Purpose (CDYWP) is the guiding force providing leadership and overseeing the project. The committee will take responsibility for the project feasibility, action plan and achievement outcomes. At eEnterprises Intl we focus on discovery, purpose, leadership, and success in every student that enters our transformational incubator.

eEnterprises International executes a leadership development internships designed by CDYWP to develop future minority leaders in the financial services industry and teach them how to economically empower their communities. There are five focus areas that participants in the program develop through the project based leadership competition: personal leadership skills, financial literacy, business plan preparation, Business Startup/Entrepreneurship, and physical fitness. Participants develop these crucial life skills through classroom and computer laboratory workshops and a series of tele-seminars; developmental heat through an apprentice style group competition and the opportunity to apply the skills learned through the completion of team challenging community action projects.

Participants will participate in quarterly financial literacy tele-seminars led by industry experts. Each participant will be responsible for coordinating a community action project for one of the four focus areas (personal leadership, financial literacy, business plan preparation, Business Startup/Entrepreneurship) within the community they live. The community action projects offer participants the opportunity to develop leadership; teamwork and community skills through teaching the principles of the five focus areas. While completing these empowering projects, participants make a difference in their community and empower themselves to new levels of success.

Focus Objectives – Discovery, Purpose, Success, Leadership:

The eEnterprises Intl internships were established to provide financial assistance to minority and professional students attending a local high school or an accredited college or university and pursuing an Undergraduate or Advanced Degree (Graduate or Ph.D.) in Finance or Business or related financial services disciplines.

Benefits to the Participants:

The core tracks of the program are finance, business, and technology/multimedia driven. While the UFSC is not compensating interns participating in the program, some of the universities have paid internship programs that may apply. Please check with your campus student aid or after-hours school work/study programs. Valuable leadership skills will be gained from the nonprofit industry and IT industry enabling the participant to start their own business. The internship could lead into lifetime opportunities and real world achievements. The opportunities at eEnterprises Intl are boundless and the possibilities are borderless.

Application Submission:

Students may submit all documents by email (scanned version of the following documents is accepted: acceptance letter, registration invoice or Bursar's receipt, transcripts). The reference letter, if sent by email, must be sent from the author of the letter directly to eEnterprises International LLC. Resume, essay and internship application form may be emailed.

Students may also submit all their application documents by regular mail. A copy of the acceptance letter, registration invoice or Bursar's receipt, and transcript is accepted (originals not required). The reference letter must be signed.
